Luce Mottier, Founder and Managing partner of LMRH, has significant HR Management experience gained within top Geneva based multinational companies such as Biogen, Lilly and Serono. She created LMRH in 1996 and rapidly developed a strong client portfolio within the life sciences environment as well as within other fields of activity now represented in LMRH. She recruits high quality people at Executive level and as well all levels of profiles required during HR projects (manufacturing, engineers, specialists, middle management, senior management...) in a wide spectrum of companies and industries.

She was born and raised in Geneva, Switzerland and she studied, lived and worked in US, Canada and Africa. Earlier in her career, she held managerial HR positions with Europe, Middle East and Africa responsibilities, always within the Pharmaceutical or Biotech or Medical Devices domains. She brings relevant line and people management experience to the management search business as well as to HR solutions consulting (implementation, reorganization, development or interim).

She is also very active in career transition.

She graduated in Cognitive-Compartmental Behaviour Strategies with the University of Geneva, has a BA in Entrepreneurship and Business Development from HEC, University of Geneva.

Luce Mottier is a certified executive coach with specialisation in enterprises. She holds a master in life coaching and is certified MBTI level II, Insight and Hogan personality type assessment and in team cohesion training.
